

Larry Shearer Lighting Setup

Larry has a lighting setup in his home that he invites club members to use. The large red panel in the picture to the right is backdrop material that includes a number of different selections.

Older cameras had a connection they called a PC connection that connected the camera to the flash gun. The light kit Larry has uses this type of connection to sync the strobes (there are four that flash at the same time if you need them). The inset shows the PC connector (which is part of the lighting setup). The camera photo shows the connector plugged in to a Wein adapter that also subdues the voltage needed to flash the unit. This adapter can be obtained from www.bhphotovideo.com for $29.95 plus shipping; or you can use Larry's. Contact Larry for further information at crazylarrys@comcast.net.

This is a photo Larry took of his 'girls' recently with the lighting setup. Notice nice flat lighting with no shadows.
